The duty of a
journalist is to comfort the afflicted
and afflict the
comfortable.

Words—so innocent
and powerless as they are, as standing
in a dictionary—how potent for good and evil they become in
the hands of one
who knows how to combine them.

A good book is
the precious life-blood
of a master spirit,
embalmed and
treasured up on purpose to a
life beyond life.

The World is
made up of facts
and a journalist
is simply one
who is indignant
at not knowing
what they are.
